

408 HOT NEW PRODUCTS TESTED & REVIEWED
2007 GEAR OF THE YEAR AWARDS

→ SPECIAL
Women's Section!
(see back cover)

Outside Buyer's Guide

SUMMER 2007

The BEST NEW GEAR

EVERYTHING YOU
NEED FOR YOUR LIFE OUTSIDE

40 KILLER VALUES

The Planet's Sweetest Deals!

27 Must-Have Jackets

21 Lust-Worthy Bikes

24 Ultra-Tough Packs

Green Gear

ECO-FRIENDLY PRODUCTS THAT PERFORM

DISPLAY UNTIL OCTOBER 1
$9.95 US $9.95 CAN

Watches

1. Victorinox Swiss Army ST 5000 $495

Find north, lock your heading, and get your trek on with this titanium-cased digital compass. The face's bearing-indicator lights make it pretty much impossible to get off track. swissarmy.com

2. Reactor Graviton $300

Whether you're surfing, boating, or fishing, suss tidal data for 275 preprogrammed global locations, or add your secret stashes to the lineup with lat-long coordinates.

At the office, black out the digital display for a clean analog look. $300; reactorwatch.com

KILLER VALUE

3. Polar CS 300 $220

Track your cycling or cross-training performance 50 ways from Sunday with this calorie-counting, target-zoning, pace-crunching, heart-rate-monitoring, wireless-data-downloading—I could go on—wrist computer. polarusa.com

4. Timex TX World Time $395

London, Rio, L.A., and Tokyo on the itinerary? With 24 cities ringing the crystal, all you need to do is dial in the appropriate metropolis and you're in the (time) zone. txwatches.com

5. Quiksilver Yeti $160

Stalking powder on the mountain all day? This is your multitalented timepiece, with weather-forecasting barometer, altimeter, digital compass, inclinometer, thermometer, timer, and more at your icy fingertips. quiksilver.com

6. Suunto Vyper2 $590

Beneath the waves, this scuba bad boy—an air, nitrox, and gauge computer with electronic compass, four-button operation, and giant matrix display—is king. suunto.com

—JEREMY SPENCER

